

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 28.

the food and clothing of laborers there is now cheaper and better than ever before. No showing can be made in this country as the effect of a quarter of a century of protective tariff.

The Emperor William, of Germany, is to be received with fitting honors upon his arrival in Constantinople. The streets through which the Emperor is to pass are to be repaved and thoroughly cleansed, and the houses are to be repaired and tastefully decorated, all at the expense of those living on the route of the procession. It would be a good thing if an Emperor would visit certain other cities "of which we wot"—as an old friend used to say.

IN ANTICIPATION of the marriage of the Crown Prince of Greece to Princess Sophie of Germany, Athens is the gayest place in Europe to day. The bride is said to be not beautiful but charming, and the bearing of her betrothed very gallant. They are to have a big time of it. Royalty may be laughed at, but it is very enjoyable for the time being.

ARCHDUKE JOHN of Austria is determined to renounce his rank and fortune and to go to sea as commander of an English merchantman. He is said to be very highly educated and a splendid officer, but wants to work for his living. Very commendable, but somewhat precarious.

THE END of the everlasting Parnell-Times suit in London, it is said, is visible in the dim future. All interest in the proceedings of the commission has died out long since.

MRS. LANGTRY has bidden adieu to this country, having made an engagement in London for a year from next January. The "Lily" flourishes best on her own soil.

THE HOME RULERS are considerably disappointed at the result of the election in Brighton, England, on last Friday, when a Tory was chosen by a large majority.

A YANKEE can't be kept down. Barnum is to have a part of his street pageant in the procession of the Lord Mayor of London.

STATE POLITICAL NOTES.

Capt. McKinney, the democratic nominee for Governor, completes his tour in the Southwest next Thursday.

The result of Saturday's registration all over the State is highly encouraging to the democrats. They have made large gains in nearly all the sections from which reports have been received.

The democrats of King William county had a grand old fashioned barbecue at Centerville on Saturday. Governor Lee attended as the guest of a democratic club, and made a rousing speech on the subject of democracy and white supremacy.

It has been brought to the attention of the civil service commission that the Old Dominion Republican League of the District of Columbia has had mailed or delivered to persons in the public service in the departments at Washington circulars requesting contributions for political purposes in Virginia.

Two democratic judges of election in Aspinwall district, Charlotte county, were arrested on Saturday by special deputies of the United States Marshal for that district each on a charge of fraud at the last presidential election and carried to Lynchburg, where after a partial hearing the case was continued till to day. The arrest caused great indignation in that section. A special grand jury in Charlotte county, says it has been known for some time that one of Mahone's schemes was to buy up the judges as far as possible, and it seems that, falling in this he is to proceed to the wholesale arrest of the judges, and the first instalment of them were carried from Aspinwall to Lynchburg Saturday morning.

Why Mr. Blaine Declined.

The New York World prints to-day an explanation from the pen of a member of the staff sent to Florence, Italy, of James G. Blaine's declination of the presidency in 1888, and the circumstances under which his famous Florence letter was written. The correspondent says: "Mr. Blaine had a stroke of paralysis, brought on by a chill caught in the St. Gothard tunnel, and was prostrated at Milan for twenty-four days with paralysis. With his convalescence appeared a most distressing type of melancholia which fully developed after he reached Florence. During this last stage of his long and pitiful illness, acting on the advice of a conscientious physician, Mr. Blaine wrote the letter of Jan. 25, 1888, withdrawing his name from the list of presidential candidates. Dr. Baldwin was the physician who as a matter of life or death, prompted the writing of the letter. As he admits to the World's correspondent, Dr. Fornori, of Milan, attended Mr. Blaine when first stricken down, and helped to keep secret the story of his illness. For weeks Mr. Blaine was unable to articulate after being suddenly stricken down, and Dr. Baldwin, at Florence, insisted that he must not undergo the excitement of a campaign."

Royal Wedding.

Princess Sophie of Prussia and the Duke of Sparta, Crown Prince of Greece, were married in the cathedral at Athens yesterday in accordance with the Lutheran rite. The whole route from the castle to the church was lined with troops, behind whom were packed solid masses of spectators. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested by the populace. The handsome uniform and jeweled orders of the Kaiser, and the magnificent diamonds worn by Augusta Victoria attracted universal admiration. The scene in the Cathedral was a brilliant one, the uniforms of the assembled dignitaries and the superb dresses and jewels of the ladies forming a splendid spectacle. The centre aisle of the church was strewn with roses. The service occupied more than a hour. Princes Victor and George of Wales, held golden crowns over the heads of the bride and bridegroom.

ALABAMA OUTLAWS.—Sheriff Morris, of Blount county, Ala., on Friday with a posse of forty men, surrounded Rupe Burrows, a noted outlaw and train robber, and one of his gang, near Brookville, Blount county. The outlaws killed Henry Anderson and Penn Woodward of the posse, wounded six others and escaped. The sheriff and his posse were armed only with shotguns and pistols, while the outlaws had Winchester rifles of large caliber. They fired on the posse at a distance of two hundred yards, and the shots from the officers' guns and pistols fell short. Burrows and his man had been in the vicinity for two days. They took to the mountains and made good their escape.

Bishop Keane says all the professors of the Catholic University will soon be here.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28, 1889.

Senator Barbour of Virginia is in the city to-day. He says the reported interview with him published in the New York World of yesterday to the effect that the democratic prospect in Virginia is unfavorable, is utterly and entirely incorrect, and that he never thought, let alone said, any thing that warranted it or from which such an idea as that referred, could have been legitimately conceived. On the contrary, he says he has reliable information from every county and city in the State, and knows that the democracy there was never before in better condition. He says that while the democrats of Virginia got no money from the national democratic committee, they got from other sources more than they ever had before; that they are better equipped and better organized than they ever have been in any previous campaign, and that he was never more confident of victory than at present. He says Gen. Mahone has used a great deal of money and will probably use a great deal more between now and election day, and that he may possibly buy some votes with it, but that while he, Barbour, is certain there are not five thousand white Virginians who have so little self respect as to sell their votes, he has, in his estimate, made allowance for that number, and that even should General Mahone buy that many, the democratic ticket will be elected by a decisive majority. Mr. Barbour says collections were being made for General Mahone's campaign fund in Philadelphia go late as last week by prominent high tariff men in that city. He says ex Senator Lewis, of Virginia, a republican, now in this city, tells him the majority against Mahone in his section of the State will be large, and that the democrats will elect their legislative ticket in his county, Rockingham—a gain. He says Mr. Lewis McKenzie of Alexandria, a prominent republican, tells him Mahone will be defeated by twenty thousand majority. Mr. Barbour says the arrest of the democratic judges of election in Charlotte county was a great outrage, and that the State democratic committee will make it their special business to defend them and all other judges, and other election officers, and every other Virginia democrat whom Gen. Mahone and his agents may attempt to intimidate either before or at the election. Mr. Barbour says a large majority of the people of Virginia are opposed to Gen. Mahone, and that this is no time for them to be deprived by any means whatever of the rights of that majority, and that he has no fears that they will allow themselves to be.

Congressman Mills of Texas, the author of the Mills bill, was at the Capitol to-day. He takes great interest in the result of the coming election in Virginia and thinks that a break there would do disastrous to the whole South. Mr. Mills takes a gloomy but rational view of the future condition of the South. He thinks the coming republican Congress will pass a national election law establishing republican election returning boards in every city and county in the South, appointed for life by the present republican administration, and thereby secure possession of his office; that consequently the South will be forever under negro domination, and that the necessary consequence will be the ruin of all the material interests of that section, and that when that condition shall be reached and the North suffer from its effects, as it must do, the people of the latter section will, but hardly before, realize the great mistake they have made, as it is the South which now supplies the country with by far the larger part of its exports. Mr. Mills denies the newspaper report that he said Mr. Cleveland would be the democratic candidate for President at the next election, and thinks it entirely too early to be making Presidential prognostications for 1892.

General Mahone arrived here yesterday, and last night had a conference with several of his lieutenants who met him here by previous appointment. Among them were Judge Perkins of Kansas, and Messrs. Edmund Burke and D. A. Windsor of Alexandria, Waddill of Richmond, Brown Allen of Staunton, and others. What he told them is unknown, but to other people he seemed to be in his usual spirits. It is reported that the consultation was in reference to the preparation of imaginary reasons to be assigned as the cause for his anticipated defeat.

In talking to-day about what Congressman Brown, of Indiana, said to the GAZETTE's correspondent some days ago, to the effect that General Joe Johnston had told him that General Mahone was one of the pluckiest officers in his command. General Johnston said he could not conceive how Mr. Brown could have ever got such an idea in his mind. In the first place, the General said, General Mahone was not in his command more than three days, and in the second, that even in that short time he misbehaved himself.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the father of the missing girl Belle Brown had heard nothing about her. On Saturday last he thought he had a clue to her whereabouts, and hoped to have heard from her yesterday. That hope is now dispelled, and he knows no more about her than he did the day she left. He was induced to think she had gone to Norfolk, but now has no reason to believe the strange girl seen there was his daughter.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The next term of the Court of Appeals will begin in Richmond on the 5th of November.

General Lord Wolsey has accepted the invitation to take part in the unveiling of a monument at Richmond to the late Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Boston on Saturday held its centennial of Washington's visit to that city in 1789 and inaugurated a movement to restore the grave of Mary Washington at Fredericksburg.

In Richmond on Saturday afternoon a difficulty occurred between two negroes and Mr. Douglass Gayle. One of the negroes struck Mr. Gayle with a brick, cutting his head badly. The negro then walked up the street, and in front of Nelson's drug store he met a gentleman and attacked him. The negro was knocked down and stamped. About this time a gang of negroes collected and were advancing on the gentleman, who was beating the negro, when Mr. William Mosely appeared on the scene with a shotgun and kept them at bay until the arrival of the police. The negroes scattered, but the negro who started the row was arrested and locked up.

FIVE MEN TO HANG.—The supreme court of Tennessee on Saturday affirmed the decision of the circuit court of Hancock county to an important murder case. Five brothers named John Barnard, sr., John Barnard, jr., Anderson Barnard, Clinton Barnard and Eliza Barnard were sentenced by the lower court last January to hang. The supreme court has just fixed the date of execution for Nov. 23. The Barnards met and cruelly murdered Huxley Sutton a former friend, in the public highway without cause.

Telegraphic Brevities.

The international marine conference resumed its session in Washington this morning.

Hon. Alexander Morris, a well-known politician and ex Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba, died this morning.

The 56 hour bicycle tournament closed at San Francisco at midnight, and was won by Helen Baldwin, of Pittsburg who made 884 miles.

The term of imprisonment imposed on Dr. Tauber, member of the House of Commons, who was convicted of offenses under the crimes act, expired to day and he was released.

This morning in removing the walls of the buildings burned in the late fire at Selma, Ala., a veranda gave way, which buried five men in the debris. One or two were fatally injured.

The only callers received by the President this morning were Secretaries Noble and Rush and Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota. A public reception was held in the afternoon as usual.

Thomas Shea, whose throat was cut by Thomas J. Kelly in a barber shop in Boston Saturday afternoon, because Shea had been abusing John L. Sullivan, is said by the hospital physicians to be dying.

Joseph Hoffman, a burglar, attempted to break into the house of William H. Kohn in Mount Joy, Pa., early Sunday morning, and was shot by Kohn, the ball entering the left lung and inflicting, it is thought, a fatal injury.

Gus Klahre, the dowsman who gave information to the Chicago police in regard to soldering a tin box for Martin Burke, was set upon Saturday night in a lonely spot by two men and given a fearful beating. This is the second time Klahre has been assaulted.

The steamer Wrennack yesterday sighted the schooner Morrisette off Delaware Bay and learned that the mate and two seamen had been washed overboard and that only the captain and two sailors remained and the captain was sick. The boats of the Wrennack, owing to the heavy sea, were unable to reach the schooner.

The life saving crew this morning rescued the only surviving member of the crew of the schooner Henry T. Simmons, wrecked last Wednesday night near False Cape, Va. The rescued man had been exposed during four nights and three days under the terrific storm and tremendous breakers. One by one his four comrades became exhausted and dropped into the sea.

Secretary Tracy will probably award the contracts to-day for the three new cruisers. It is believed that the Columbia Company, of Baltimore, will get two, and that the other will go to N. F. Palmer, of New York, or to H. Loring, of Boston, whose bids were the same.

The President to-day appointed J. C. Slocum to be Surveyor General of Florida.

The cracker manufacturers of the Northwest have organized a trust.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Ex-Secretary Bayard and Miss Mary W. Clynner will be married Thursday, November 7, in Washington.

Dr. Talmage broke ground for his new tabernacle in Brooklyn to-day, and will start for the Holy Land Wednesday.

The introduction of a bill to secure federal control of elections in the South is believed to be assured at the coming session of Congress.

Gill's Hotel and several business houses at Selma, Ala., were burned yesterday evening a loss of about $200,000. The guests escaped from the hotel with difficulty.

It is reported that Green McCoy and Milton Haley, allied to the McCoy faction of outlaws, were taken from the jail of Lincoln county, W. Va., Friday night and hanged.

The funeral of King Luis of Portugal took place in Lisbon Saturday, and was attended by representatives of foreign governments. The body was placed in a tomb in the Pantheon.

Fire, supposed to have been started by the bursting of a kerosene lamp hurried by a woman at the head of a drunken husband, drove thirty families in a panic out of a big tenement in Brooklyn, last night, and came near causing the death of several of the terrified inmates.

The seventh game of the world's baseball championship series between the New York and the Brooklyn clubs, played on Saturday, was won by the New Yorks by a score of 11 to 7. Of the seven played the New Yorks have won four, the Brooklyn three. The series consists of the best six in eleven games.

LOSS OF LIFE.—Additional particulars of the storm damage on the Atlantic coast have been received at Norfolk. The schooner Lizzie S. Haynes, bound from Savannah to Baltimore, was wrecked and five of her crew drowned. Five men were lost from the schooner A. E. Blackman, and all but one of the crew of the wrecked schooner Henry P. Simmons were lost. The other five men perished in the rigging for three days and nights lashed. They dropped off one by one. The sea was too rough for assistance to reach them.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

The Cronin Case

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A local paper says the State has struck a new lead in the Cronin case against Martin Burke. Through the young woman who was employed as a telegraph operator at Hancock, Mich., last May, the State's attorney has learned the identity of the senders of telegrams, which Burke received from that point. One of these telegrams, it is said, was addressed to Burke at Joliet, telling him to get out quickly. Another was addressed to Cooney at Chicago, telling him to take some money to Burke at Joliet to assist the latter's flight. Other telegrams were addressed to well known men in various western towns along the route which Burke took on his way to Canada. It was through a leak some where as to the dispatches that Martin Burke's journey was interrupted. In addition to the correspondence between Burke and the Hancock parties, it is alleged that other communications passed which seriously compromise one or more of the men recently indicted on a charge of attempted jury bribing, on account of their attempts to defeat justice in another direction.

At the opening of the Cronin trial this morning the State called for Mr. Cronin, the brother of Dr. Cronin, but that gentleman was not in the room at that time and Napier Moreland, an employee of Patrick Dinan, the livery man, was called instead. He testified as to the facts of the hiring of the white horse on the evening of the 4th of May, when Dr. Cronin was killed.

Stabbed by His Father in Law.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 28.—Samuel W. Miller, cashier of the American bank here, was seriously if not fatally stabbed last evening by F. W. Stokes, his father-in-law. Stokes has been acting strangely for some time, and it is thought he was out of his mind. Yesterday morning he was noticed sharpening up a sword case, which as alarmed his wife that when night came on she went to the house of her son-in-law to stay all night. Not long afterward a knock was heard at the door which Miller answered. No sooner did he open the door than Stokes, who was the caller, plunged his sword case into Miller's side. The sword penetrated the right lung and came out of his back making a wound which will probably prove fatal. Stokes was arrested and is now in the city prison.

Married to a Prince.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The marriage of Prince Hatzfeldt to Miss Clara Huntington, daughter of Mr. Collis P. Huntington, of New York, took place to-day in the Catholic Oratory at Brampton. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Emmons. The wedding was private, only relatives and a few friends of the bride and groom being present. A wedding breakfast was served at the German Embassy, after which Prince Hatzfeldt and his bride started for Italy on their wedding tour.

Patrons of Husbandry.

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 28.—Fully 75,000 Michigan farmers have joined the Patrons of Husbandry since last May and the number is increasing every week. They threaten to become the controlling power in the politics of the State and then to spread over the country. The patrons claim to have been forced into being by the monopolies and trusts, and they propose to organize a combination that will strike terror to the hearts of their enemies.

They Favor Federation.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 28.—Nearly 130 delegates of the International brotherhood of locomotive firemen, representing every section of the United States, met in secret in that city yesterday to consider the question of a proposed federation of labor, now agitating the brotherhood of locomotive engineers. The convention voted unanimously in favor of federation, and appointed a committee to notify the brotherhood of locomotive engineers of the result.

AUCTION SALES.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY NEAR BAILEY'S CROSS ROADS, IN FAIRFAX COUNTY, VA.

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Alexandria city, Va., rendered at its September term, 1889, in the chancery suit of May R. Hayes et al. vs. Amelia H. Reed et al., at 12 o'clock on WEDNESDAY, October 30th, 1889, the undersigned, commissioners of said sale, will sell to the highest bidder, at public auction, on the premises, the following described valuable property, namely: ALL THAT TRACT OF LAND WITH THE IMPROVEMENTS thereon, situated about one mile west of Bailey's Cross Roads, in Fairfax county, Va., on the public road leading from Washington city to Fairfax Court House and about 2 1/2 miles from a railroad station, containing about 24 acres, more or less, improved by a DWELLING and a LARGE STONE SAW and GRIST MILL, being the property lately owned by Wm. N. Reed, deceased.

The water power to said mill is very fine and of great capacity. The land is partly covered with fine timber, the cleared portion being excellent farming or garden land, and being situated about six miles from Washington city, is accessible to one of the finest markets in the world.

Any information concerning said property will be given and, if desired, parties will be taken to view the same by calling on or addressing A. G. Hayes, No. 229, Centre Market, Washington, D. C., or James E. Clements, County Court House, Alexandria city, Va.

Terms of Sale: One third of the purchase money to be paid in cash, and the residue in two equal payments in one and two years from the day of sale; the purchaser to give his notes, bearing interest at six per cent. per annum, secured by deed of trust on the property, for the deferred payments; or for all cash, at purchaser's option. One hundred dollars down will be required on day of sale. All conveying at purchaser's cost.

A. G. HAYES, [Commrs.]
JAMES E. CLEMENTS, [of Sale.]

I hereby certify that the bond of $3,000 required of the commissioners of sale in the suit of May R. Hayes et al. vs. Amelia H. Reed et al., has been duly executed by Commissioners A. G. Hayes and James E. Clements, with approved security. Given under my hand this 25th day of September, 1889.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

New York Oct. 28.—There was an active business in the stock market at the opening this morning, though it was principally due to the interest in a few of the leading stocks. The upward movement was confined to small proportions and fractional advances from 1/4 to 5/8 per cent. only were established in the general list. Prices again weakened toward the end of the hour, and at 11 o'clock the market was rather heavy, generally at insignificant changes from the opening prices. Money easy at 5/16.

The market opens quiet and easy, with no changes to note. Flour is steady at quotations. The only demand for Wheat is for good milling lots, and we still quote at 60a3c. Corn is quiet at 41a43. Rye and Oats are easy at quotations. Country produce is in fair demand.

In Baltimore receipts of Southern Wheat show quite a large increase, and the market is animated, including higher, particularly for desirable milling grades
